Bianchi. There are no substitutes. Only compromises.

FRAME DESIGN:

Each Bianchi frame is specifically designed for its use: road racing, track racing or touring.

HUBS: For light weight, high performance and easy removal, all Bianchis have forged light alloy hubs with both front and rear quick-release mechanisms.

DERAILLEURS: Bianchis feature a superior Campagnolo, Suntour or Shimano derailleur perfectly matched to gear range and component group. Most are of light alloy.

SPOKES: To ensure perfect roundness and long life, all Bianchi wheels are built with 14 gauge spokes in a four-cross pattern. Most are of stainless steel.

GEARS: Most Bianchis offer 12-speed gear systems. 10- and 18-speed systems are also available.

SEAT POST: All Bianchis have light alloy seatposts. Most are microadjusting for exact saddle positioning.

BRAKES: To ensure safe, smooth stops, all Bianchis feature center or side-pull alloy brakes from Campagnolo, Dia-Compe or Universal.

FITTINGS: To eliminate paint-chipping, rust-causing clips, all Bianchis have brazed-on control cable fittings. Many for shift levers and water bottles.

LUGS: For perfect frame alignment and strength, all Bianchis use only the finest precision pressed or cast lugs.

FRAME TUBING: For high quality, lightness and strength, all Bianchis have either Columbus or Bianchi double-buted tubing. (A.R. or CrMo)

CRANKS: For efficient power transmission and ease of maintenance, all Bianchis use strong, light, alloy cotterless cranks from Campagnolo, Sakae and Shimano.

BARS AND STEM: All Bianchis feature engraved alloy handlebars, alloy stems and allen key fittings.

RIMS: For higher performance and lighter weight, all Bianchi rims are of light alloy.

TIRES: For easier pedaling, all Bianchis are equipped with 90 or 100 lb. high pressure, wired-on tires or tubulars by Bianchi or Clement.
